Foreword

by Prof Dr Satya Vrat Shastri

After a thorough perusal of these text books written by teachers of St James Schools in London for the teaching of Sanskrit, I am convinced of their utility for Indian schools. They are well-graded and supported by appropriate illustrations that make them very attractive to learners, particularly the young.

Today many Indian universities offer Sanskrit as an optional subject, even for those who are majoring in other subjects. For these students the books would be very effective in introducing them to Sanskrit which they might not have studied previously. The books could also be useful for those involved in performing arts like dance and music, or for students of Yoga and Ayurveda, subjects which have many Sanskrit references.

The first group of books entitled Sanskrit is Fun (3 volumes) introduce the learners to the Devanagari alphabet grouping the letters according to their place of articulation. Each group is given a designation, 'Family'. The 'Family' comprises both the vowels and the consonants. The learners are first taught how to draw the letters. The teaching is also helped by the humorous presentation of them in the form of animal figures. The next step is to add vowels to the consonants and then to teach joint consonants. Finally words and sentences are formed.

The second group of books seek to teach Sanskrit with reference to age-old stories of Krishna (2 volumes) and Rama (2 volumes). These stories with perennial interest of their own are then pressed into service to teach vocabulary, the formation of nouns and the conjugation of verbs in all three tenses. Adjectives and prepositions are also covered .

By the time learners have completed these books it is expected they would have a good basic grasp of the Sanskrit language, its vocabulary, structure and grammar. These books are an attempt to teach Sanskrit in a simple and systematic way that may well dispel the notion that Sanskrit is a difficult language.

Dr Shastri is currently an Honorary Professor at the Special Centre for Sanskrit Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. He was the Head of the Department of Sanskrit and the Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Delhi, where he was the Pandit Manmohan Nath Dar Professor of Sanskrit (1970–1995).

Preface

by Professor Richard Gombrich

It is a privilege for me to be invited to introduce this set of textbooks. They have been compiled with loving care by the teachers of the Sanskrit Department of St James School in London. Their slow birth reflects the years of teaching experience which have gone into their making.

Sanskrit is by no means an easy language: even in India it is mastered only by a small minority of the population. The grammar is complicated, even if someone who masters it will finally discover that it is more systematic and less irregular than that of English. The vocabulary is vast, reflecting the vast span of time and geographical area over which Sanskrit has been used. Learning to read and write an Indian script is also a major undertaking for a student from another culture. (Luckily for us Europeans, at least it is written left to write and top to bottom.)

On the other hand, Sanskrit is not only a beautiful language written in a beautiful script; it is the vehicle of classical Indian culture, the culture which has given the world one of its greatest literatures and greatest civilizations. Sanskrit achieved something not very different from the form it still has today more than three thousand years ago. The reason why it has survived so well, and may well outlive most of the languages which the world is now using, is not hard to understand: it is because of the aesthetic attractions and the intellectual and spiritual value of the content of so many Sanskrit texts.

Only a few students are likely to have the opportunity to go on to study Sanskrit in depth, so that they can enjoy reading Sanskrit by themselves. There will be so many rival claims on their attention. But even those who only work through these books are likely to look back on the experience with satisfaction, a feeling that they have done something truly worth while. And the few who go further will be grateful that these books have launched them on an unforgettable experience.

Prof Gombrich was the Boden Professor of Sanskrit at the University of Oxford from 1976 to 2004 and was a past President of the Pali Text Society (1994–2002) and General Editor Emeritus of the Clay Sanskrit Library. He is currently the Boden Professor of Sanskrit Emeritus, University of Oxford

Introduction to the Sanskrit Language

Language is fundamental to a human being. For this reason, it is a primary element in education. Language is one of the greatest gifts that a student is given. How a person learns to speak is all important and will be determined by example. So the aim of the teacher should be to present the student with the finest language.

Linguists agree that one of the finest languages is Sanskrit. Sir William Jones, recognised as a founder of modern linguistics, said in 1786:

“The Sanskrit language, whatever be its antiquity, is of a wonderful structure; more perfect than the Greek, more copious than the Latin, and more exquisitely refined than either; yet bearing to both of them a stronger affinity, both in the roots of verbs and the forms of grammar, than can possibly have been produced by accident.”

The considerable benefits of studying the classical languages, Greek and Latin, have been known in the West for hundreds of years; indeed, in recent centuries some of the best education available in the world has been based upon them. However, Sir William Jones had discovered a classical language par excellence, more ancient than Greek or Latin, which had been preserved intact for thousands of years.

The word ‘Sanskrit’ means ‘perfected’, for its sound system and grammar are scientifically structured. It has even been put forward as being the most suitable language for use in computers (see ‘Knowledge Representation in Sanskrit and Artificial Intelligence’, The A.I. Magazine, Spring 1985).

Sanskrit also has one of the greatest literatures known to humanity. The Sanskrit epics, the Rāmāyaṇa and the Mahābhārata, are inspiring and fascinating. Readers of all ages love these stories and enjoy the company of great and heroic men and women.

Notes for Teachers/Students

PREPARATION

Before beginning this book students should be fairly fluent in reading the Sanskrit script. They should also be able to write this script beautifully and take dictation of simple words (such as those in the first pages of this book) with something approaching accuracy. Of course, all this presupposes familiarity with, and ability in, Sanskrit pronunciation.

Practice in dictation of vocabulary and individual reading of letters, words, sentences and stories should carry on throughout the period of this book's use to maintain a good standard. For this purpose Appendices 1 and 2 should be used. This would ensure that the learner is not relying on memory, which would normally be the case if they were reading their current story. Appendices 1 and 2 are for reading practice only and should not be used at this stage for translation. For this reason, words from these texts are generally not included in the vocabularies at the end of this book.

STORIES

By the time the stories are reached in this book, a reader would do well to have familiarised him or herself with the tales of Krishna's childhood, around which the book is based. These will be found in the Śrīmad Bhāgavatam, available in many translations. Such familiarity will enable the reader to understand the story naturally and simply in the Sanskrit version. As with most situations, it is best not to read from a book but rather to speak from a well funded memory and the inspiration of the moment.

Before a new story is begun, the new words should be practised orally over the course of several lessons. Words which the reader has met before should also be practised again. Then he should practise one sentence at a time, reading and repeating the sentence carefully. He should then go for translation.

This process should be repeated over several sessions until the story is quite well known. A useful exercise at this stage is to read the story out with one word in each sentence left out. The reader should be able to give the sentence back with the word replaced. It is worth mentioning that these stories lend themselves to being acted out.

WRITING

Written translation work may be entered straight into this book, since it is essentially a workbook. When translating, they should first write the English meaning beneath each Sanskrit word and only then write the complete sentence when they have worked it out. In this way they are discouraged from writing the story from guesswork or vague memory.

In writing translations of individual words the reader should include the preposition corresponding with the particular ending of the word (e.g., from Rāma, in the house, etc.). Since in English no preposition is used for the object, it being known by word order alone, he should add (2nd) after the English translation of the object of the sentence.

OTHER DETAILS

As the book proceeds, the singular forms of the noun राम are gradually built up, case-ending by case-ending. The recitation of these forms, as given in English and Sanskrit, should be regularly practised up to the point that has been reached.

The Stories of Krishna comes in two books, this being the first of the two. Both parts together should take about four or five terms to complete.

Nouns

*Introduce the concept of the noun by asking the students to give several examples.
Everything has a name.*

A noun is a name.

John, forest, lion and river are English nouns.

All the creatures hear Kṛṣṇa's flute.

Exercise 1

Choose five things from the picture opposite and write down an English noun for each. Then draw a picture of each in the box.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

In Exercises 2 to 5, and 8, the class should practise for several consecutive lessons, sounding each word after the teacher, followed by its English translation.

When the words have been learnt in this way, the teacher should write each word on the blackboard, building it up letter by letter, with the class reading each step as it appears.

After this, the class should copy all the Sanskrit words in that exercise three times each, together with their translations, using the lines given, and then copy the English word in the box provided. They should finally be tested on the words.

Students working alone should adapt these practices according to their available resources.

Exercise 2

	पुस्तकम् book
	पुष्पम् flower

Puzzle

र	ष	सः	पु
मः	वृ	स	स्त
	ष्टः	र्पः	क

There are six Sanskrit words hidden in the puzzle. Ring them above, then write them out next to the English for them below:

demon .....

tree .....

town .....

Rāmah .....

snake .....

CHAPTER 2

Adjectives

An adjective tells the quality of something.

- ◆ ‘mighty’    tells the quality of    a king.
- ◆ ‘kind’       tells the quality of    a lady.
- ◆ ‘bright’      tells the quality of    the sun.

So we have:

- ◆ a mighty king
- ◆ a kind lady
- ◆ a bright sun

*Ensure that the students understand what an adjective is.
Ask for plenty of examples of their own.*

Exercise 10

Write an English adjective for each of these nouns, and draw a picture of each object in the box.

1. _____ पृष्ठम्

2. _____ गजः

3. _____ गृहम्

4. _____ वृक्षः

5. _____ द्वारम्

The first adjectives we shall meet in Sanskrit are colours.

Over the course of several lessons the teacher should point to various objects and state the colour in Sanskrit. The teacher should then ask the question कः वर्णः? ('What is the colour?') and the class should respond in Sanskrit. When the students know the colours, the following exercise should be completed. Self-study students should devise a similar test for themselves.

Exercise 11

Copy the Sanskrit word for each colour, and colour the box in that colour.

पीत

.....

yellow

नील

.....

blue

अरुण

.....

red

हरित

.....

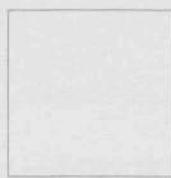

green

कृष्ण

.....

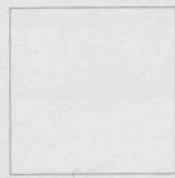

black

नारङ्ग

.....

orange

CHAPTER 3

Using Adjectives with Nouns

An adjective should have the same ending as the noun it goes with.

नील is the word for ‘blue’.

पुष्पम् is the word for ‘flower’.

So, if we wish to say ‘blue flower’,
नील has to have the same ending as पुष्पम्
and we say

नीलम् पुष्पम्

*Many of the students will take some time to appreciate this principle.
Patience will be required.*

Over the course of several lessons the following examples should be built up orally in this way:

1. What is the Sanskrit for 'red'? (अरुण)
2. What is the Sanskrit word for flower? (पुष्पम्)
3. How do we say 'red flower'? (अरुणम् पुष्पम्)

Other examples:

पीतम् पुस्तकम्
नीलम् सूत्रम्
अरुणः खेगः
पीतः मूर्यः

हरितः मर्पः
अरुणा नासिका
पीता तारका

Practise the following exercise several times orally before undertaking it as a written exercise.

Exercise 12

Fill in the missing endings, then draw a picture of the object spoken of.

हरित... फलम्

नारङ्ग... रथः

अरुण... नौका

नारङ्गः द्वारम्

नीलः नासिका

पीतः खण्डः

---

CHAPTER 4

Verbs

---

A verb is an action.

◆ ‘eats’      ◆ ‘speaks’    and      ◆ ‘thinks’
are verbs

*Ensure that the students understand what a verb is by asking for examples.
The verbs in Exercise 13 should be practised orally for some lessons before the written exercises are undertaken.*

GAME: SPOT THE VERB

Here is a battle between the forces of good and evil. Name six English verbs which can be seen in the picture. For example: 'shouts'.

1. ....

4. ....

2. ....

5. ....

3. ....

6. ....

Exercise 13

Copy these words beautifully, using the lines given.
If there is time, draw pictures of someone carrying out the action.

	धावति	..... ..... .....
	runs
	वदति	..... ..... .....
	speaks
	चरति	..... ..... .....
	walks
	खादति	..... ..... .....
	eats

पतति falls

हसति laughs

नमति

bows

पिष्टति

drinks

पश्यति

sees

Exercise 14

The following exercise first should be practised orally, then written.

Write in three different verbs. Choose ones which would make good sense. Then draw a picture of each action being carried out.

	नरः ..... .....
	रुग्नः ..... .....
	नारी ..... .....

There are many games which may be played at this point. किम् करोति
(What is he or she doing?) is a useful question to use in such games.

GAME: THE CHARIOT WHEEL

Two of the spokes of the chariot wheel have been filled in with धावति ('runs') and नमति ('bows'). Fill in the other six spokes with the Sanskrit verbs for:

speaks

eats

laughs

walks

drinks

CHAPTER 5

Revision

1. Revise the definitions of a noun, an adjective and a verb, and re-establish the understanding of these concepts, with plenty of examples in English and Sanskrit.
2. Revise the principle of agreement between nouns and adjectives.
3. Over the course of several lessons, the students should practise Exercise 15 (which starts on the next page) orally, and then write it.

- ◆ A noun is a name.
- ◆ An adjective tells the quality of something.
- ◆ An adjective should have the same ending as the noun it goes with.
- ◆ A verb is an action.

Exercise 15

Answer the questions on each sentence:

1. The white monkey sits.

- (a) Which is the verb? .....
(b) Which is the noun? .....
(c) Which is the adjective? .....

2. नीलः गजः चरति

- (a) Which is the verb? .....
(b) Which is the noun? .....
(c) Which is the adjective? .....
(d) Translate the sentence.

3. The brave soldier fights.

- (a) Which is the noun? .....
(b) Which is the verb? .....
(c) Which is the adjective? .....

4. पीतम् फलम् पतति

- (a) Which is the adjective? .....
- (b) Which is the noun? .....
- (c) Which is the verb? .....

5. The wise lady listens.

- (a) Which is the adjective? .....

6. पिबति हरितः खगः

- (a) Which is the noun? .....
- (b) Which is the adjective? .....
- (c) Which is the verb? .....
- (d) Translate the sentence.

CHAPTER 6

The First Ending

A noun can play
a number of parts in a sentence.

It can name the doer,
the person who does the action.

- ◆ The girl picks the flowers.
- ◆ The king speaks to his people.
- ◆ The fish swims to the ocean.

Exercise 16

The following exercise first should be practised orally.

Underline in RED the doer in these sentences.

For example: The man eats.

1. The book falls.
2. The lion drinks.
3. The elephant washes.
4. The dog runs.
5. The horse walks.
6. The lady laughs.
7. The man bows.
8. The pupil writes.
9. The man stands.
10. The snake falls.

- ◆ Whenever a noun plays the part of the doer in a sentence, it has a special ending.
- ◆ The First Ending is used to show the doer.
- ◆ All the nouns which we have learnt so far already have the First Ending on them.

नरः	man
नौका	boat
पुष्पम्	flower

Exercise 17

The following exercise should first be practised orally.

Underline in RED the word with the First Ending in these sentences, and write down what each sentence means.

For example: नरः खादति The man eats.

1. कुक्कुरः चरति _____
2. नरः हसति _____
3. सिंहः पिबति _____
4. नारी नमति _____
5. सर्पः पिबति _____
6. सिंहः धावति _____
7. पुस्तकम् पतति _____

THE MAZE GAME

Who is able to find Kṛṣṇa ?

1. Draw in their route. Yaśodā's route is shown.
2. Now write a sentence in Sanskrit, in the spaces on the next page, for each of those who go to Kṛṣṇa.

[ Game continues overleaf → ]

[ → Game continued ]

3. Then write the English for each sentence.

Example: यशोदा गच्छति 'Yaśodā goes.'

SANSKRIT

1.

3.

- ◆ Now underline IN RED each word with a First Ending (the doer).
- ◆ Then, underline IN GREEN each verb.

Exercise 18

Give the Sanskrit for these sentences.

For example: ‘The man eats.’

नरः खादति

1. The lion drinks. ....
2. The fruit falls. ....
3. Yaśodā laughs. ....
4. Rāma speaks. ....

Now underline IN RED each Sanskrit word that has a First Ending, and IN GREEN each Sanskrit verb.

CHILDREN'S NAMES

Each student should be given a Sanskrit name from the lists which follow. The student can be called by that name in subsequent lessons.

Great Men		Great Ladies
भीमः	रामः	लक्ष्मी	सीता
वसिष्ठः	पाञ्चवल्क्यः	श्रद्धा	शकुन्तला

CHAPTER 7

Calling Someone's Name

In old stories, when great men or women are spoken to, the word 'O' is used before their names.

'O King'    'O Queen'

---

In Sanskrit we use 'हे' instead of 'O'. We also change the ending of the name. This is called the Vocative Ending.

Exercise 19

Underline IN BROWN the vocative word in these sentences:

1. O king, build a palace.
2. Rule wisely, O queen.
3. O Rāma, protect us.
4. O ministers, speak truthfully.
5. Do not doubt, O warrior.

A man's name ends in a विसर्ग, written with two dots, as in रामः.

When he is called, we change this ending.
We change it by not saying the विसर्ग.

So हे राम means 'O Rāma'.

Exercise 20

Write the vocative forms of the following:

FIRST ENDING	VOCATIVE
रामः	हे राम
अर्जुनः	.....
भीमः	.....
कृष्णः	.....
शिवः	.....

THE VOCATIVE GAME

Call out to each of these.

For example:

ହେ କୃଷ୍ଣ
O Kṛṣṇa !

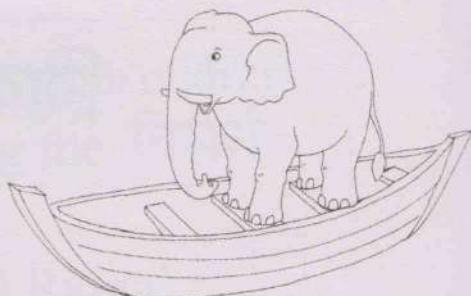

ହେ
O .....

ହେ
O .....

ହେ
O .....

ହେ
O .....

THE FORMS OF राम

As we have learnt, a noun can play many parts in a sentence. For each of the different parts it plays it is given a special ending. We shall take राम as an example of a noun. Now we shall start building up the table of special endings for राम, beginning with the two we have learnt so far.

रामः
हे राम

Rāma
O Rāma

First
Vocative

As the course proceeds, the forms of राम are built up and should be practised regularly as a recitation.

A verb is an action.
A word with a First Ending shows the doer.
A vocative word shows the person called.

Exercise 21

In each of the following sentences, underline the verb in GREEN, the word with a First Ending in RED, and the vocative word in BROWN.

1. O king, the enemy is coming.
2. The birds are singing, O queen.
3. O captain, the boat sinks.
4. O Kṛṣṇa, the shepherdesses are dancing.
5. Sītā weeps, O Rāma.

Exercise 22

The following exercise should first be practised orally.

In these sentences underline

- ★ the verb in GREEN,
- ★ the word with a First Ending in RED, and
- ★ the vocative word in BROWN.

Then, in the space given, write in English what each sentence means.

1. हे राम कृष्णः हसति । .....
2. हे कृष्ण रामः खादति । .....
3. हे लक्ष्मण रामः धावति । .....
4. हे भीम सिंहः चरति । .....
5. हे अर्जुन सर्पः पतति । .....

The । at the end of a Sanskrit sentence is like a full stop in English.

Exercise 23

Give the Sanskrit for these sentences. Underline

- ★ the verb in GREEN,
- ★ the word with a First Ending in RED, and
- ★ the vocative word in BROWN.

1. O Rāma, the lion runs.

2. O Kṛṣṇa, the snake eats.

3. O Lakṣmaṇa, Rāma laughs.

4. O Arjuna, Kṛṣṇa speaks.

5. O Kṛṣṇa, the man bows.

CHAPTER 8

The Second Ending

A noun can sometimes name
the thing the action is done to.

- ◆ The boy kicks the football.
- ◆ The lady eats the fruit.
- ◆ The pupil hears the command.

Exercise 24

Underline in BLUE the thing done to in these sentences:

1. The warrior kills the dragon, O queen.
2. O king, the queen reads the book.
3. The monster eats the man, O warrior.
4. O sage, the fish swallows the coin.
5. The girl drinks the juice, O brother.

Now underline

- ★ the verb in GREEN,
- ★ the word with a First Ending in RED, and
- ★ the vocative word in BROWN.

THE SECOND ENDING

THE SECOND ENDING

The thing done to has a special ending. This is called the Second Ending.

The last letter of Second Endings is a म्, as in रामम्, सिंहम्, खगम्.

Exercise 25

Here are some words with First Endings. Next to each is the same word with a Second Ending. Copy these twice each.

FIRST	SECOND
रामः	रामम्
सिंहः	सिंहम्
खगः	खगम्

Exercise 26

Here again are some words with First Endings.

Now fill in the spaces with the same words but with Second Endings.

FIRST	SECOND
रामः	रामम्
सिंहः	.....
गजः	.....
वृक्षः	.....
कुकुरः	.....

[ continues overleaf → ]

of exercises

खण्डः	.....
रथः	.....
मूर्यः	.....

THE FORMS OF राम

*The following forms of राम
should be practised regularly as a recitation.*

So far we have learnt these three:

रामः	Rāma	First
हे राम	O Rāma	Vocative
रामम्	Rāma	Second

The endings of verbs should be revised ( -ति ) and the First and Second Endings of nouns ( -ः and -म् respectively ).

Exercise 27

Underline in BLUE the things done to, as in रामः चन्द्रम् पश्यति ।

1. गजः फलम् खादति ।
2. कुकुरः वृक्षम् धावति ।
3. सिंहः नगरम् गच्छति ।
4. हे कृष्ण सिंहः जलम् पिबति ।
5. हे लक्ष्मण खगः वृक्षम् चरति ।

Now underline

- ◊ the verbs in GREEN,
- ◊ the words with a First Ending in RED, and
- ◊ the words with a Vocative Ending in BROWN.

Once the new words are well known, the students should, without looking at the text, repeat each sentence after the teacher and then volunteer a translation. This should be repeated over several lessons. See the Notes for Teachers/Students on page xi.

STORY 1

Kṛṣṇa's Mother, Yaśodā, Sees All Things in His Mouth

NEW WORDS:

गच्छति	goes	तस्य	his
तत्र	there	सर्वम्	everything

1. यशोदा कृष्णम् गच्छति ।

2. कृष्णः हसति ।

( Story continues after the drawing → )

Yaśodā looks into Kṛṣṇa's mouth.

(→ story continued )

3. यशोदा तस्य आस्यम् पश्यति ।

4. तत्र यशोदा सूर्यम् पश्यति ।

5. तत्र यशोदा चन्द्रम् पश्यति ।

6. तत्र यशोदा वनम् पश्यति ।

7. तत्र यशोदा सर्वम् पश्यति ।

The teacher should find this story on pages 176-7 of the ‘Śrīmad Bhāgavatam: The Wisdom of God’, translated by Swāmī Prabhavānanda (Madras 1972), and fill in the details for the class.

WORD ORDER

We should notice that in Sanskrit sentences the verb usually goes at the end.

Thus,
‘Kṛṣṇa sees the lion’ becomes कृष्णः सिंहम् पश्यति ।

WHAT DOES KRŚNA SEE?

Words Needed

चन्द्रः moon

मूर्यः sun

गजः elephant

सर्पः snake

सिंहः lion

[ Game continues next page → ]

In this game the students are invited to complete the following sentences. The teacher should introduce the procedure of giving a word-for-word translation, then a final translation of the whole sentence with a good order of words.

Write a sentence for each of the objects Kṛṣṇa sees in the drawing on page 63, as in:

कृष्णः

Kṛṣṇa

खगम्

bird

पश्यति

sees.

Kṛṣṇa sees a bird.

कृष्णः

Kṛṣṇa

पश्यति

sees.

कृष्णः

Kṛṣṇa

पश्यति

sees.

कृष्णः ..... पश्यति
Kṛṣṇa ..... sees.

कृष्णः ..... पश्यति
Kṛṣṇa ..... sees.

कृष्णः ..... पश्यति
Kṛṣṇa ..... sees.

Exercise 28

Use these words

वृक्षः tree    सिंहः lion    कुक्कुरः dog
मत्स्यः fish    नरः man to say in Sanskrit what other things Yaśodā sees in Kṛṣṇa's mouth. Remember that what is seen must have a Second Ending ( -म् ). Fill in the missing word with one of the words from the box above.

For example:

तत्र    यशोदा    गजम्    पश्यति ।
there    Yaśodā    elephant    sees

There Yaśodā sees an elephant.

The first sentence below is partly done for you:

1. तत्र    यशोदा .....    पश्यति ।
there    Yaśodā .....    sees

There Yaśodā .....

2. तत्र यशोदा पश्यति ।

3. तत्र यशोदा पश्यति ।

4. तत्र यशोदा पश्यति ।

5. तत्र यशोदा पश्यति ।

The class should be reminded of, and tested on, the following definitions, and should be asked to give examples of each.

REVISION BOX

- ◆ A noun is a name.
- ◆ An adjective tells the quality of something.
- ◆ A verb is an action.
- ◆ A word with a First Ending shows the doer.
- ◆ A word with a Vocative Ending shows the person called.
- ◆ A word with a Second Ending shows the thing done to.

CHAPTER 9

The Third Ending

A noun can sometimes name
the thing the action
is done by or with.

- ◆ The man goes      by horse.
- ◆ The lady cuts      with a knife.
- ◆ The soldier fights    with a sword.

Exercise 29

Underline in YELLOW what these actions are done by.

1. Rāma travels by chariot.
2. Kṛṣṇa goes by elephant.
3. The king travels by road.
4. By an eye the giant sees.
5. The teacher comes by foot.

Exercise 30

Sometimes, instead of 'by', we say 'with'.

Underline in YELLOW what these actions are done 'by' or 'with'.

1. The man eats with his hands.
2. The lady cuts with a knife.
3. The minister arrives by horse.

- ❖ To say what an action is done 'by' or 'with' we use a special ending.
- ❖ This is the Third Ending.
- ❖ The Third Ending means 'by'.

Exercise 31

Underline in YELLOW the words which would take the Third Ending in Sanskrit.

1. O Kṛṣṇa, Yaśodā goes by chariot to the village.
2. The man digs with a spade.
3. The king goes to the mountain by horse, O queen.
4. By road the soldiers come to the city, O king.
5. The girl draws the flower with a pencil.

[ Exercise continues overleaf → ]

[ continuation of Exercise 31 ]

Now, in the sentences on page 71, underline

- ❖ the verbs in GREEN,
- ❖ the words with a First Ending in RED,
- ❖ any words with a Vocative Ending in BROWN, and
- ❖ any words with a Second Ending in BLUE.

The Third Ending is —એન.

So ગજઃ becomes ગજેન ‘by elephant’
and હસ્તઃ becomes હસ્તેન ‘by hand’.

Exercise 32

Here are some words with First Endings. Opposite each is the same word with a Third Ending. First copy each word twice.

FIRST	THIRD
गजः	गजेन
सिंहः	सिंहेन
मत्स्यः	मत्स्येन

[ Exercise continues → ]

[continuation of Exercise 32 ]

In the boxes below, next to each of the words with a First Ending, write the same word with a Third Ending.

FIRST	THIRD
Example: खगः	खगेन
कृष्णः	.....
गजः	.....
रथः	.....
गाढ़समः	.....
हस्तः	.....

THE FORMS OF राम

*The following forms of राम
should be practised regularly as a recitation.*

So far we have learnt these four:

रामः	Rāma	First
हे राम	O Rāma	Vocative
रामम्	Rāma	Second
रामेण	by Rāma	Third

Note: In रामेण there is ण instead of न. We shall learn about this later.

Exercise 33

(a) Underline in YELLOW the words in these sentences that have a Third Ending, as in राघवः रथेन गच्छति ।

1. कृष्णः हस्तेन खादति ।

2. सिंहः रथेन गच्छति ।

3. नरः हस्तेन पिबति ।

4. नरः नगरम् गजेन गच्छति ।

5. हे कृष्ण गजः आस्येन खादति ।

.....
.....
.....

- (b) Now underline the verbs in GREEN, the words with a First Ending in RED, any words with a Vocative Ending in BROWN, and any words with a Second Ending in BLUE.
- (c) Finally, in the spaces provided, give a word-for-word and then a complete translation for each sentence.

Exercise 34

See if you can put these words with a Third Ending in the right sentence. Write them in under the dotted lines.

आस्येन हस्तेन गजेन रथेन

1. नारी वनम् ..... गच्छति ।

2. नरः जलम् ..... पिबति ।

3. नरः नगरम् ..... गच्छति ।

4. कृष्णः फलम् ..... खादति ।

.....

.....

Now in the spaces provided give word-for-word, and then complete, translations for each sentence.

Once the new words are well known, the students should, without looking at the text, repeat each sentence after the teacher and then volunteer a translation. This should be repeated over several lessons. See the Notes for Teachers/Students on page xi.

STORY 2

Yaśodā Cannot Bind the Limitless Kṛṣṇa

NEW WORDS:

नवनीतम्	butter	आस्ति	is
बध्नाति	binds	पुनः	again
हस्तं	short	अनन्तं	limitless
द्वितीयेन सूत्रेण	with the second rope	तृतीयेन सूत्रेण	with the third rope

*The teacher should find this story on page 177 of the 'Śrimad Bhāgavatam: The Wisdom of God',
translated by Swāmī Prabhavānanda (Madras 1972), and fill in the details for the class.*

CHAPTER 10

More about Adjectives

---

The examples in the box below should be practised orally over the course of several lessons before Exercise 35 is begun.

- ◆ An adjective tells the quality of something.

विशाल°	large	दीर्घ°	long
अभय°	fearless	प्राज°	wise
प्रबल°	strong	शुद्ध°	pure

The ° shows that an ending needs to be added

- ◆ An adjective should have the same ending as the noun it goes with. This is called ‘agreement’.

Exercise 35

Copy these examples and say what they mean in English. For instance, the first example means ‘a large book’. Draw a picture of each.

विशालम् पुस्तकम्	.....	.....
विशालः वृद्धः	.....	.....
विशाला तारका	.....	.....
प्राज्ञः नरः	.....	.....

(Exercise continues next page → )

दीर्घा नौका
दीर्घः सर्पः
प्रबलः गङ्गामः
अभयः नरः
शुद्धा यशोदा

Exercise 36

Under the dotted lines, write a Sanskrit adjective to go with each of the Sanskrit nouns. Remember, the ending of the adjective must agree with the ending of the noun, as in विशालः राक्षसः ‘large demon’.

USE THESE ADJECTIVES

- ◆ विशाल० ‘large’ ◆
- ◆ अल्प० ‘small’ ◆      दीर्घ० ‘long’ ◆

In the box given, draw a picture of each object you have described.

Exercise 37

Put a Sanskrit adjective of your choice with each of these vocative words and translate each expression, as in

हे प्रबल नर ‘O strong man!’

1. हे ..... कृष्ण .....
2. हे ..... अर्जुन .....
3. हे ..... राक्षस .....
4. हे ..... मिह .....
5. हे ..... गज .....

Exercise 38

Put a Sanskrit adjective of your choice with each of these words with a Second Ending and translate each expression. Put '(2nd)' after each translation to show that it has the Second Ending, not the First, as in विशालम् गजम् 'large elephant' (2nd)

1. ..... खगम् .....
2. ..... नरम् .....
3. ..... राक्षसम् .....
4. ..... रामम् .....
5. ..... हस्तम् .....

The forms of Rāma, up to and including the Third Ending, should be revised before the following Quiz is begun. The Quiz comprises six parts and revises systematically all the endings learnt so far.

THE TRANSPORT QUIZ

1. How Do You Go to School ?

(a) Here are some expressions describing five types of transport, some unusual. Translate the last four and draw a picture of each in the box.

..... खगेन .....

..... सर्पेण .....

..... कुक्कुरेण .....

[ Quiz continues → ]

2. How Do They Go to School ?

Now here are some sentences with First Ending words showing the doer. The verb in each is गच्छति ‘goes’. Say by what means they go, and add a Sanskrit adjective. Give a word-for-word and then a complete translation. The first one is done for you.

CHAPTER 11

The Fourth Ending

A noun can sometimes name
the thing the action
is done for.

- ◆ They work for the teacher.
- ◆ He gathers fruit for his father.
- ◆ She cooks a meal for the family.

Exercise 39

In these sentences underline IN PINK the person or thing for which the action is done, as in

‘The elephant walks to the tree for fruit.’

1. The man writes the book for the king.
2. Yaśodā washes the fruit for Kṛṣṇa.
3. The lady goes to the forest for a flower.
4. Kṛṣṇa binds the snake for the pupil.
5. The lady cleans the house for her mother.

To say what an action is done for we use
the Fourth Ending.

The Fourth Ending is —आय.

So गजः becomes गजाय 'for an elephant'
and नरः becomes नराय 'for the man'.

Exercise 40

Here are some words with First Endings. Opposite each they are given Fourth Endings. First copy each word twice.

FIRST	FOURTH
कृष्णः	कृष्णाय
सिंहः	सिंहाय
नरः	नराय

[ Exercise continues → ]

Below, next to each of the words with First Endings, write the same word with a Fourth Ending.

FIRST	FOURTH
Example: गजः	गजाय
मर्पः	.....
मत्स्यः	.....
मूर्यः	.....
वृक्षः	.....
चन्द्रः	.....
नरः	.....

THE FORMS OF राम

*The following forms of राम
should be practised regularly as a recitation.*

So far we have learnt these five:

रामः	Rāma	First
हे राम	O Rāma	Vocative
रामम्	Rāma	Second
रामेण	by Rāma	Third
रामाय	for Rāma	Fourth

THE FISHING GAME

[ → continuation of Game ]

In the drawing opposite some people and animals are fishing. Follow their lines to find out what they are fishing for. Below are listed in Sanskrit the people and animals who are fishing. Opposite each of these write what they are fishing for, using the Sanskrit word with the Fourth Ending. The first one is done for you.

Remove any final म before adding the Fourth Ending.

THE FISHERS	FISHING FOR
नरः	मत्स्याय
सिंहः	.....
गजः	.....
खगः	.....
कुकुरः	.....
नारी	.....

The following Word Tree Game will require careful introduction. Some students will find it challenging.

[ Teachers: see note on preceding page.]

THE WORD TREE GAME

Here is a sentence made up from the fruits of the Word Tree shown on the next page:

हे राम नरः राक्षसम् मूत्रेण कृष्णाय बध्नाति ।

O Rāma the man demon (2nd) with a rope for Kṛṣṇa binds

‘O Rāma, the man binds the demon with a rope for Kṛṣṇa.’

In this sentence underline the Sanskrit

- ❖ First Ending word in RED,
- ❖ Vocative word in BROWN,
- ❖ Second Ending word in BLUE,
- ❖ Third Ending word in YELLOW,
- ❖ Fourth Ending word in PINK, and the
- ❖ Verb in GREEN.

[ Game continues → ]

The Word Tree

[ Game continues → ]

[ continuation of 'Word Tree' Game ]

Now put together two more sentences below, choosing fruits from the Word Tree (opposite) and setting them out and underlining as shown on page 111. Your sentences do not have to include all the types of endings.

1. (Sanskrit:) .....

(Full translation:) .....

2. (Sanskrit:) .....

(Full translation:) .....

Before dealing with this box, practise the word ददाति ‘gives’.

THE FOURTH ENDING USED WITH नमति AND ददाति

- ❖ In Sanskrit the person to whom we bow takes the Fourth Ending, as in

नरी कृष्णाय नमति ।

‘The lady bows to Kṛṣṇa.’

- ❖ The person to whom a gift is given will also take the Fourth Ending, as in

नरः कृष्णाय पुष्पम् ददाति ।

‘The man gives a flower to Kṛṣṇa.’

Exercise 41

Seven Sanskrit Coursebooks for Beginners

THESE Coursebooks are well-graded, and supported by appropriate illustrations that make them very attractive to learners, particularly the young. Today many Indian and foreign schools/colleges offer Sanskrit as an optional subject. For such students these books are a very effective means of introducing Sanskrit, which they might not have studied previously. These books could also be useful for those involved in performing arts, such as dance and music, or for students of Yoga and Ayurveda—subjects which have many Sanskrit references.

All books are A4 Size (297x210mm) and available in Paperback, Spiral Bound and Hard Bound.

The first group of books entitled Sanskrit is Fun (Parts I-III) introduce the learners to the Devanagari alphabets, grouping the letters according to their place of articulation, called 'Family', which comprises both the vowels and consonants.

Learners are first taught how to draw the letters.

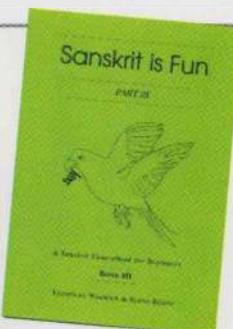

Learning and teaching is also helped by the humorous presentation of the letters in the form of animals figures. The next step is to add vowel to the consonants, and then to teach joint (compound) consonants. Finally words and sentences are formed.

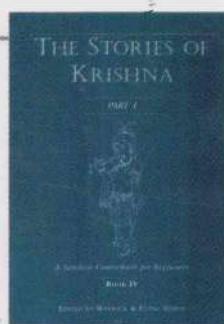

Pages: viii, 76

Pages: viii, 60

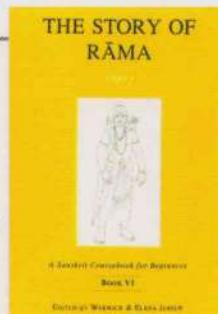

Pages: xiv, 162

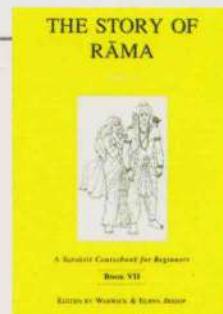

Pages: xv, 189

The Story of Rama books (Parts I-II) together relate, in 16 episodes, the story of the Ramayana. Part I introduces: the standard method of transliteration; the gerund ('having done something'); and the declension of the Sanskrit word for 'that' in all three genders. Part II covers an introduction to the imperative mood; other important noun and pronoun declensions; 'having done something' used with prefixes; the past passive participle; the conjugation of the middle voice and the verb 'to be' in present, future and past tenses; and the completion of the standard method of transliteration.
